TOP 100 WINES 2009

2008 Gamble Family Vineyards Sauvignon Blanc

Sauvignon Blanc

The identity crisis continues. Love of the grassy has many U.S. wines following New Zealand's successful path. The alternative? Ferment in oak and bulk up Sauvignon Blanc in Chardonnay's image. But more winemakers are branching out. It's worth celebrating serious commitment to a grape often made to sit at the kids' table.

2008 Gamble Family Vineyards Sauvignon Blanc

Gamble Vineyard, Yountville

($28) Longtime Napa native and grower Tom Gamble organically farms his 12 acres on the valley floor of Yountville. Buoyant, ripe flavors of green apple, hay and hyacinth, with a racy lime-zest energy.
